Merit Badge Counselors:

Troop 457 wants to expand the number of adults participating in their son's progress and advancement through scouting. One of the ways that you, as a parent, can participate is through the merit badge program. The troop typically offers five to six of the MBs during our meetings. If you would like to help us in offering these merit badges and thus help your son's chances to advance in rank, please check off which merit badges you would be willing to help with. Most, do not require any special training other than a willingness to help. Just as important, if you have another hobby and/or skill that you would like to pass on to our scouts, please list this information as well. Several of our parents have arranged merit badge days that feature these skills during non-meeting times which have been very successful and fun events for our scouts. For more information on merit badges, go to <http://usscouts.org/usscouts/meritbadges.asp>.
